

A Professional Development Program for Ph.D. Candidates and Postdoctoral Scholars

Information Meeting

Tuesday, January 22, 2019 | Noon-1:30pm
Student Community Center (SCC), Room D

Please register: <https://2019pftfinfo.eventbrite.com>

The Professors for the Future (PFTF) program is a competitive, year-long fellowship program designed to recognize and develop the leadership and academic skills of outstanding PhD candidates and postdoctoral scholars who have demonstrated their commitment to professionalism, integrity, and academic service. The program consists of professional development training through participation in monthly meetings, a seminar in college teaching, a seminar on ethics and professionalism in the university, and creation of a project to benefit other graduate students and postdoctoral scholars.

All Ph.D. students and postdoctoral scholars are cordially invited to join PFTF co-directors Ellen Hartigan-O'Connor, Associate Dean, and Teresa Dillinger, Academic Administrator, and current PFTF fellows for this informational meeting about the PFTF program.

Visit <http://pftf.ucdavis.edu> for more information and application forms.

Applications are due Friday February 22, 2019.

Sponsored by Professors for the Future (Graduate Studies)